The "Bonita Caprice," presented by the advanced class, was probably the prettiest of the numbers offered by the older girls. The drills were all executed with a precision and exactness that comes only through patient endeaver and superior training.

The last event on the program—the basketball game between the "Magpies" and the "Mosquitoes"—furnished the most exciting offering of the evening, the "Mosquitoes" finally winning the "Mosquit

Prep School Meet This Afternoon

John Marshall High School and Richmond Academy will try conclusions on the track this afternoon in the Central Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Heretofore the prep school meet has attracted Benedletine College and McGuire's, but for some reason this year the two last named schools will not have teams entered. Notwithstanding this fact, the races are sure to be close and warmly contested. High School heretofore has had a rather easy time winning the prep meet, but Richmond Academy has developed some real stars this season, and expects to make amends for past defeats.

UNIFORM RULES

Carolina Colleges May Unite to Form Intercollegeiate Ath-

C., January 30.— President Potent, of Wake Forest, is in receipt of a letter, requesting his views upon the formation of an intercollegiate athletic association among the colleges of the State for the pur pose of acquiring uniformity of eligibility requirements and supervising the contests among the colleges of the city. President Poteat has referred the communication to J. R. Crozler, who is the athletic director of the college and the chairman of the faculty committee on athletics, with the request that the committee co-operate as far as pos-

They require not only per-sonal cleanliness, but clean air, clean food, clean streets, clean water, clean clothing, clean houses, and that every-thing be clean with which they may be all this is done, Christian Scientists the healing process of Christian are still unsatisfied, for Christian Science is not less scientific because ence shows that little has been accomplished in the nature of true hygiene, and very little that is worthy of the name of sanitation, until the human mind itself is cleaned out and original."

kept clean.
"Jesus stated this fact more strongly than any one else could, and Christian Science practice has proved conclusively that to the extent that the human mind is emptied of fear, malice, envy, hatred, revenge, evil thinking, evil speaking, and all the beliefs of vice and sin and disease, just to that extent is a true sanitary system being established. And furthermore, Christian Science has proved in innumerable instances that when such a system of hygiene, purely mental, is established, all of the world's hygienic require-ments are more than fulfilled, and just in that proportion also is the law of health unmistakably and permanently established, both individually and col-

"The human body never gets ill because of any inherent capacity to do so. To put it exactly as it is, the human body does not know enough to suffer. Deprived of mind, it never suffers. In "Science and Health" and her other works, Mrs. Eddy has most clear-ly set forth the fact that it is the
